Elevator Pitch

It is a group of 100 Quillasingas women (original people) who have been working for the rescue of Laguna La Cocha, RAMSAR zone, which gives rise to the Guamúz river that flows into the Amazon. They work on the conservation of native species, the restricted use of land for livestock and now they want to advance in the rescue of water through the restoration of 7 hectares. Which they will buy with the sale of their beauty products, made by themselves. For which they urgently need the financial re
